It Will Be Brief and to the Point-He Favors Abolition of Minor Internal Taxes.

A National Bankrupt Law to Be Recommended—His Views on Silver, the Indians and Other Topics.

THE MESSAGE.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 21 -The Enquirer publishes the following from its Washing ton correspondent.

The President has completed the rough draft of his message to Congress and it seven to the Public Printer. If it is not in the clother than the relaborated it will not occupy over four to unns of newspaper space. In its finance teatures the President has utilized the views of Manton Marble who was sent abroad is a special commissioner to study the silving question.

a special commissioner to study the silvinguestion. If a personal friend of the President is not traut the cardinal points of the message can well be discounted. On the silver question the President has three views. First this was not if the law is continued in force at amendment so as to leave the representation of the silver have as the if the law is continued in force at amendment so as to leave the retrieur a yith the Secretary of the Transviry the amount of silver dollurs to be counsed each month, and the repeal of so much of the law as at now is as sometic a minimum and maximum month is colonized third, in the failure, to dopt either of the two foregoing propositions the Precedent will suggest to Congress the act is billy of increasing the weight of the silver dollars as so to bring it in parity with the rold dollar.

obliai on the subject of taxation the President with the semewhat diffuse. As to internationate be will favor their complete abolit on save upon tobacco and mait and spirituous figuors. He will recommend, also but not mediate terms the necessity for a reduction of customs duties. He will favor the plannupon the free list all articles which are assets to doubt as tree raw material. fied be ord doubt as tree raw minterial. In will includ the ones wood and nearly a the articles which enter into the manufacture of Aucrician goods.

The interesting feature of the message, will be the treatment of the Indian question. The President will indorse the evangelizing plan and will advise Congress to make the leg shinon necessary to bring the Indian under the influence of civilization and its laws. As a whose he will fluor the gradual breaking upon the tribal syst in and advocate the holimoffinials by the Indians in secondity. Whil thus advocating such plan, he will not dissipating the Indians upon reservations under the charte of army officers.

The Present will ask Congress to take in meliate stype to provide a National Pask, upitiaw has all also advocate the est this himself a Burn to Commence to be under the superior of the Secretary of the Indian computer of the Secretary of the Indian of a Burn to Composite the Secretary of the Indian of Aucrophysical Computers of the Secretary of the Indian of the August of the Secretary of the Indian of the August of the Secretary of the Indian of the August of the August of the Indian of the August of the August

A Wisconsin Ex-Banker Taken In.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov 21 -Two years ago Herbert P. Jones was a wealthy banker at Neenah He came to Milwaukee, lost his fortune on the Board of Trade and his bank collapsed. It was charged that he took deposits when he knew the insolvent condition of his business, and he was arrested. His mother secured his re-lease on ball, and he disappeared Since his supposed fight to Canada United States officers have been on the look out for him, it being charged that he embezzled rary postmaster at Neenah in the days of his prosperity These facts all came out after the collapse of the bank and Jones disappearance. On Thursday he unexpectedly appeared at Green Bay to face the original accusation, and the Federal officer-arrested him. He was brought to Milwankee and lodged in jail

Improvement in Steel Manufacture. PITTEBLEGH Pa., Nov 21 -An improve ment has been made on the Bessemer steel process at the Edgar Thomson Steel Works which it is said, will have the effect of making Bessemer steel equal in quality to crucible steel at about one-tenth the pince. The change consists in the thorough mixing of the piegal iron or manganese with the molten iron in the ladle so as to unformly carbonize it. Bessemen steel can be made at a cost of 1 to 11/2 cents a pound, while that made in crucibles costs at least situation, as telegraphed to Bradstreet's, shows less activity in some lines than was reported one week ago. This is particularly noticed in dry goods. Wool is quiet, and prices are firm for fine fleeces, owing to the relatively decreased demand. The movement of grocery staples has been fair, with lower prices on cotton. Daily products are lower and depressed. There is less activity in big and manufactured irons. The wheat market has shown no new features besides the almost entire absence of any export demand. The price has made a few spurts, but has dragged heavily since. Indication is lower than it has been, while oats are relatively firm. Flour is barely sustained, with the export demand very owing to the relatively decreased demand sustained, with the export demand very light, and production still very heavy In brief, staple commercial commodities and products have very generally head their own as to price but nothing more. Fire tail ure score of the United States for the week is reported to bradstree's aggregates 234, or 7 more than last week. This is 17 less than in the like week in 1884 and 6 more than in the third week of November, 1883. The total number of mercantile failures is ported throughout the United States in 1885. to date is 9,861, as compared with 9,955 failures from January 1 to November 21, a decline of 74

"LUCKY" BALDWIN.

Millionaires.

, Room No. 330 at the Galt House is occupied by a medium-sized whitehaired man, who is usually attired in a plain dark suit, with a coat of the double-breasted sack cut. There is nothing flashy about him. The man is E. J. Baldwin, familiarly known as "Lucky Baldwin," the noted California millionaire. Mr. Baldwin has been given to J. W. Baker, will be deliv- here for several days attending the fall races with his string of runners. Last night Mr. Baldwin related to a

Courier-Journal representative much ng court, can find good accommoda- of his early experience, how he rose tions at reasonable prices good clean from poverty to millions, and what dangers and labors he passed through before he reached wealth. He was born near Cincinnati, O., but in 1853 was running a small store in Racine. Wis., endeavoring to take care of himself and a young wife. For four years the fame of the golden California coast had traversed all parts of the East and the Mississippi Valley. Stories of how men, one day the possessors of nothing, and the next the owners of fortunes, were common, and all were believed. In that same year, 1853, Mr. Baldwin sold out his little store in Racine, and he and his wife joined a wagon train to make their perilous way across the plains to the new Eldorado, where fortune bid fair to smile on all. Indians were the during the year that Mr. Baldwin chose for his journey they were worse than they had ever been before or since, although there is much reason and murders were committed by the Mormons disguised as Indians. Mr. Baldwin's train was not an exception to the list of sufferers, and he graphic separated, about thirty, among whom were myself and wife, going to the north, in order to pass around the wells, or headwaters of the Humbolt River. We had left the main portion of the train for several days and had gone around the wells, when we camped next morning, just after day-light, shots were fied at us from the bluff.

"A party of Indians had concraled themselves amid the thick shrubbery on top of the chiff and were beginning a look fire upon our party. We had lively fire upon our party. We had placed our wagons in a kind of a semicircle and, barricading behind them, we returned the fire. Our people were sent part of their men around and they -Call on Thomas Bivans for rates fire from our side. Thomas grew too led through the hills.

They could have killed us, but evidently thought they had a sure thing polities on the Atchison, Popeka & and preferred to sport with us for Santa Fe railroad, as I am posted on a while. I was driving the wagon, in which lay my wife, who was ill. Two Indians, each with a cocked revolver, —A great deal of misunderstanding is prevailing in the northern part myself up for lost, but the Indians did not shoot.

"Our good fortune saved us. Just at the head of the canyon was encamped a large ox train, embracing a party of about seventy-five people. They, too, had been attacked by the Indians, but by building a fortification held them at bay. Both our party and the Indians who were attacking us ran muon this before we knew it and the Indians were afraid to pursue us further. We at once joined forces with the other crowd, while the two parties of Indians did the same. They surrounded our camp, and crawling around the tall grass fired upon us whenever a man exposed himself, yet they were not sufficiently strong to storm our fortifications. We remained in that spot two weeks, when the In-dians finally left us, and we made the remainder of our way to California un-molested. The band that attacked us belonged to the Apache tribe."

Mr. Baldwin's fortune did not come to him by some sudden streak of luck, as his nickname would indicate, but was accumulated gradually. When he reached San Francisco he obtained possession of a small hotel, but ran it for only two weeks. A friend whom he had known in the East was interested in a Government contract for making brick. Mr. Baldwta obtained a share in the venture, although he knew nothing in the world about mak-"But I was determined to learn." he

"That is the way I made my money. he said, "for I never had any great stroke of luck, like some other men. The Chronicle gave me my name of and a half millions at one time out of the Ophir mine at Virginia City, Nevada. I had all the dealers on the coast and the California Bank against me, but I outwitted them and broke the bank, or rather that was what led of that bank has been rather remarkable. It broke in 1876 for fourteen millions of dollars, but it paid of everything and it; stock is now worth double the par value. When I had the bank and its friends outwitted I could have made eighteen millions of dollars.

because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Kezema, Cutancous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tuberculur Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladles, are produced by it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectival an attractive that it enadicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

The December Number will begin the Seventy-second Volume of HARDER'S MAGLZINK. Miss Woolson's novel, "East Angels," and Mr. Howell's 'Indian Sammer'. Holding the foremost place in current serial fiction—will run through several numbers, and will be followed by serial stones from R. D. Blackmore ond Mrs. D. M. Craik. A new editorial department, discussing noise suggested by the current literature of America and Europe, will be contributed by W. D. Howells, beginning with the January Number. The great literary event of the year will be the publication of a series of papers—taking the shape of a story, and depicting characteristic features of American society as seen at our leading pleasure resorts—written by 'Indies Dudley Warner, and illustrated by 'N. Renhart. The Magazine will rive special attention to American subjects, treated by the best American writers, and illustrated by leading American artists.

reading and illustrations. The serial and short stories have strong dramatic interest, while they are whelly free from whatever is permicious or valgarly sensational: the papers on natural history and science, travel, and the facts of life, are by writers whose names give the best assurance of accuracy and value. Illustrated papers on athletic sports, games, and pastimes give full information on these subjects. There is nothing cheap about it but its price.
